Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's arguments filed 10 -1-04 have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive.

With regard to the 102 rejection over USP 6740413 as well as the 103 rejection in view of US PUB 2003/0065071, applicants argue that the reference does not disclose one of the elements of the claimed invention, i.e. a polymeric anionic component. However, as worded and amended, applicants' claim, when broadly interpreted, while remaining in scope with the specification, would still render the claim anticipated over the reference. Note the term "polymeric anionic component" may be interpreted in view of the specification, as a component used within a larger polymeric moiety and not the actual polymeric moiety itself. It appears that applicants have merely "rearranged" the semantics of the claim to try to overcome the reference and without acknowledging the overall substance of the claim with regard to applicants' specification itself.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

As stated previously in the previous rejection, claims 1- 2 and 4 - 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by USP 6740413 see previous action and abstract, cols. 1-4 and claims 14-16.

Consequently, the claimed invention cannot be deemed as novel and accordingly is unpatentable.

35 USC 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13 and 22 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over USP 6740413 in view of USPUB 2003/0065071. (See previous rejection and Examiners comments above regarding the primary reference.)

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1711

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
